Thomas Paine 2013

This guy's video on youtube has been so popular that Obama called him personally. He said he was very disturbed with the video and invited him to the White House. Obama also said he wanted the White House to handle the Press and not to talk about the video or the White House visit. That's very interesting. Watch it now before it's pulled from youtube. This may be the best six minutes invested in your future. Pass it on, if you agree...
